

Using our C-Head Composting Toilet

It's a little different than what you are used to but don't worry, you can do this! Remember, this isn't your first rodeo, you've been potty trained at least once before!

First, raise the lid (seems pretty normal so far but here's where it gets weird) and remove the inner cover by the knob, placing it against the back of the lid. Like this:

Number 1 Rule - Everybody sits to do number one.

Number 2 Rule - Sit up straight so your number two goes where it should.

Paper or plastic?

Used paper goes in the trash, not in the head. Plastic bags are available next to the wipes in the cabinet for your use if paper is very "muddy" or is otherwise a source of embarrassment.

Ready to flush away your hard work?

Replace the inner cover and close the lid.

If you have only left liquid behind, you are done. Go rejoin the party—we didn't hear a thing!

If a solid deposit has been made...

Pick up the crank handle and insert the white end into the hole in the toilet lid, making sure it seats all the way. Now turn the crank clockwise (in the direction of the arrow on the handle) 15 times.

Put the crank back, wash your hands and you are done!
